

Angkor National Museum

Displaying the golden era of the Khmer Kingdom

Located in central Siem Reap the new Angkor National Museum is actually a world class museum and a cultural mall combined together in one building. The museum offers eight chronologically ordered galleries of Angkorian era artifacts and a multimedia presentation of Angkorian history and culture. The cultural mall which is open to both museum visitors and the general public contains restaurants, bookshops, a souvenir shop, tourist information and a Spa & beauty center.

Practical Information

Opening hours 09.00am—08.00pm

Admission fee is $12 and $2 extra if you bring a camera.

How to get there

The museum is reachable by bicycle, moto, tuk-tuk, car or van.